

IPREX Blogbarometer 2015

2,134 bloggers living in 13 countries participated in the survey.

The most popular blog themes are focused on consumer and lifestyle topics like beauty, fashion, food and traveling.

The main goals for blogging are sharing information and experiences, having fun and professional development.

Being approached for PR or marketing reasons

A majority (85%) of respondents thinks positively about approaches by companies and actually wish for more (52%).

The highest rated social media channels for blog promotion are Facebook and Instagram.

Three quarters of all bloggers are female.
Two-thirds of the bloggers are younger than 35 years.

The blogs: age and size

41% of bloggers have already operated their blog for more than five years. Newcomers (under 1 year) represented only 8% of those surveyed.

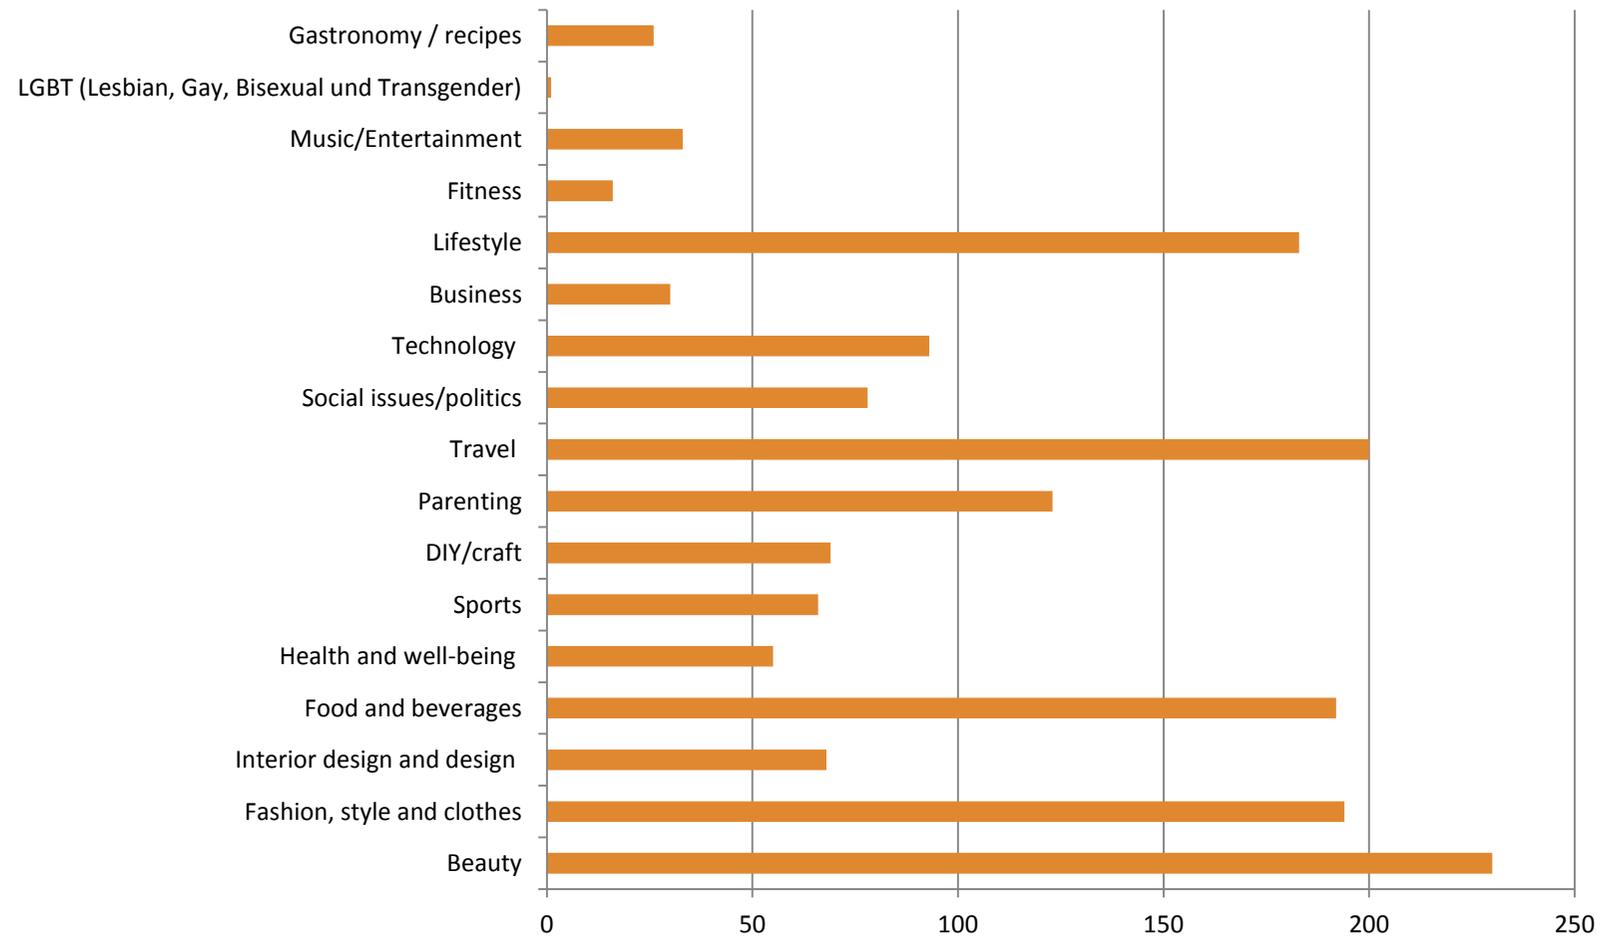

Main blog themes are beauty and lifestyle

The main themes are:

- “Beauty” 12%
- “Food & beverage” 10%
- “Fashion, style and clothes” 10%
- “Travel” 10%
- “Lifestyle” 9%

Main blog themes: detail

Themes and their sources

When asked where bloggers find material only 28% said they obtained them through press releases and product samples.

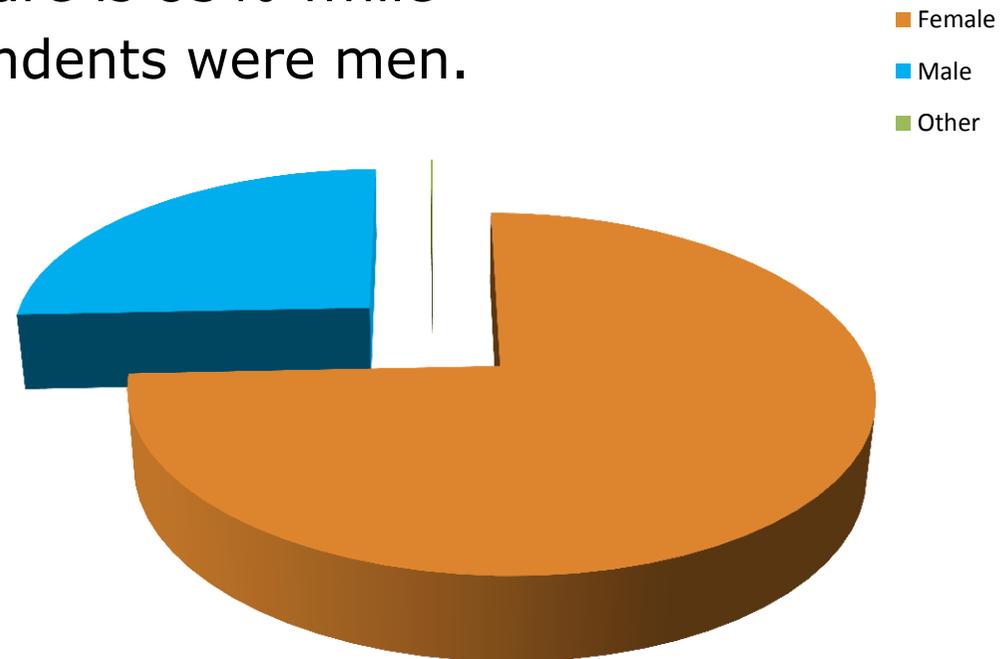

My own experience and thoughts	84%
Current events, issues and news	34%
Collaboration or partnerships with brands or companies	30%
Press releases or product samples sent to me	28%
Discussion topics in other blogs and networks	28%
Experiences of people I know	24%
Newspapers, magazines or books	23%
Blogger events	21%
Topics trending on social media	19%
Radio and TV	11%
News and lifestyle apps on my phone	4%

Blogging is dominated by women

Overall, 72% of the surveyed bloggers were women.

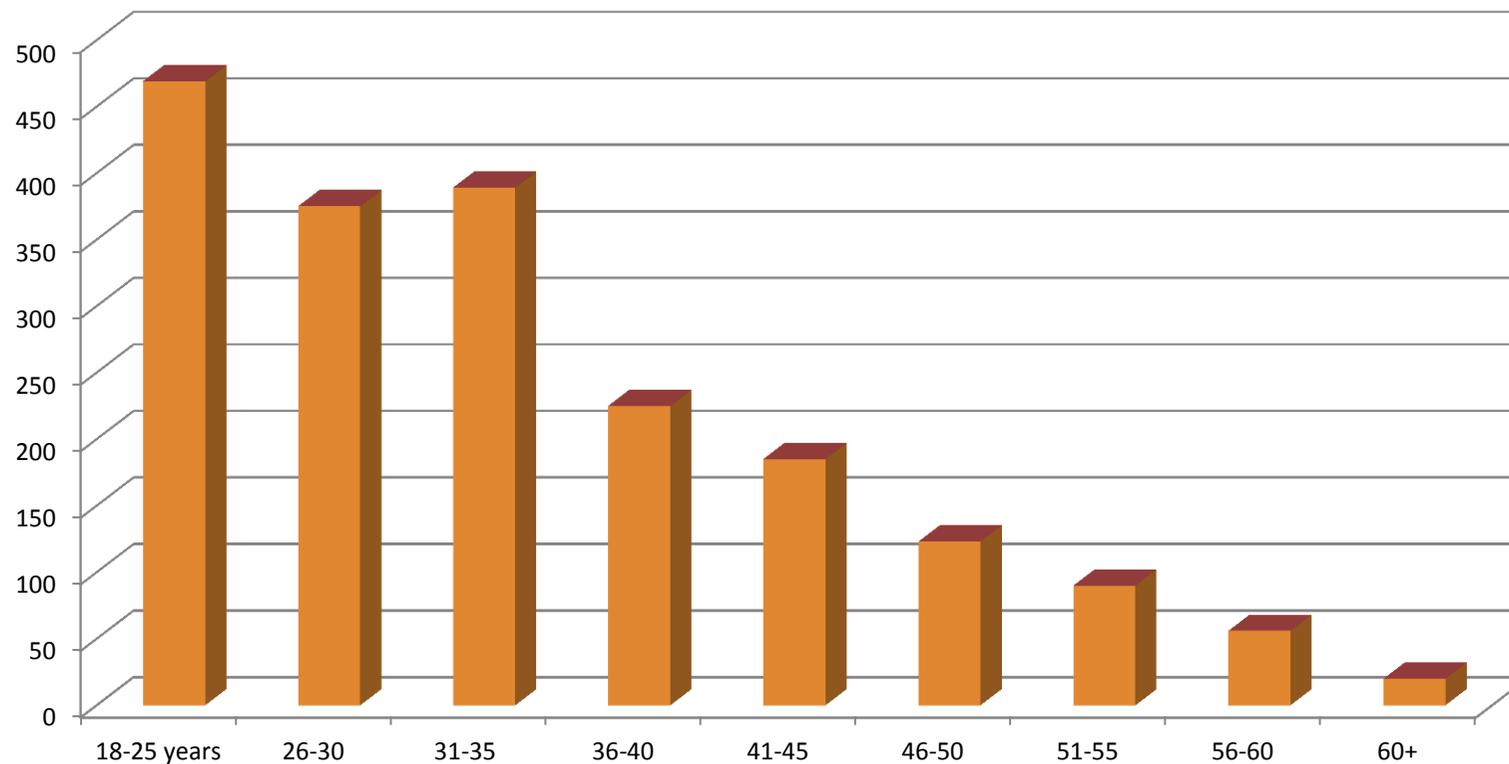

In the Netherlands the figure is 83% while in Germany 60% of respondents were men.

Bloggers are older than expected

Blogging is an activity that requires a certain life experience as well as having something to say.

Bloggers and companies

73% of bloggers said they have been approached for PR or marketing reasons

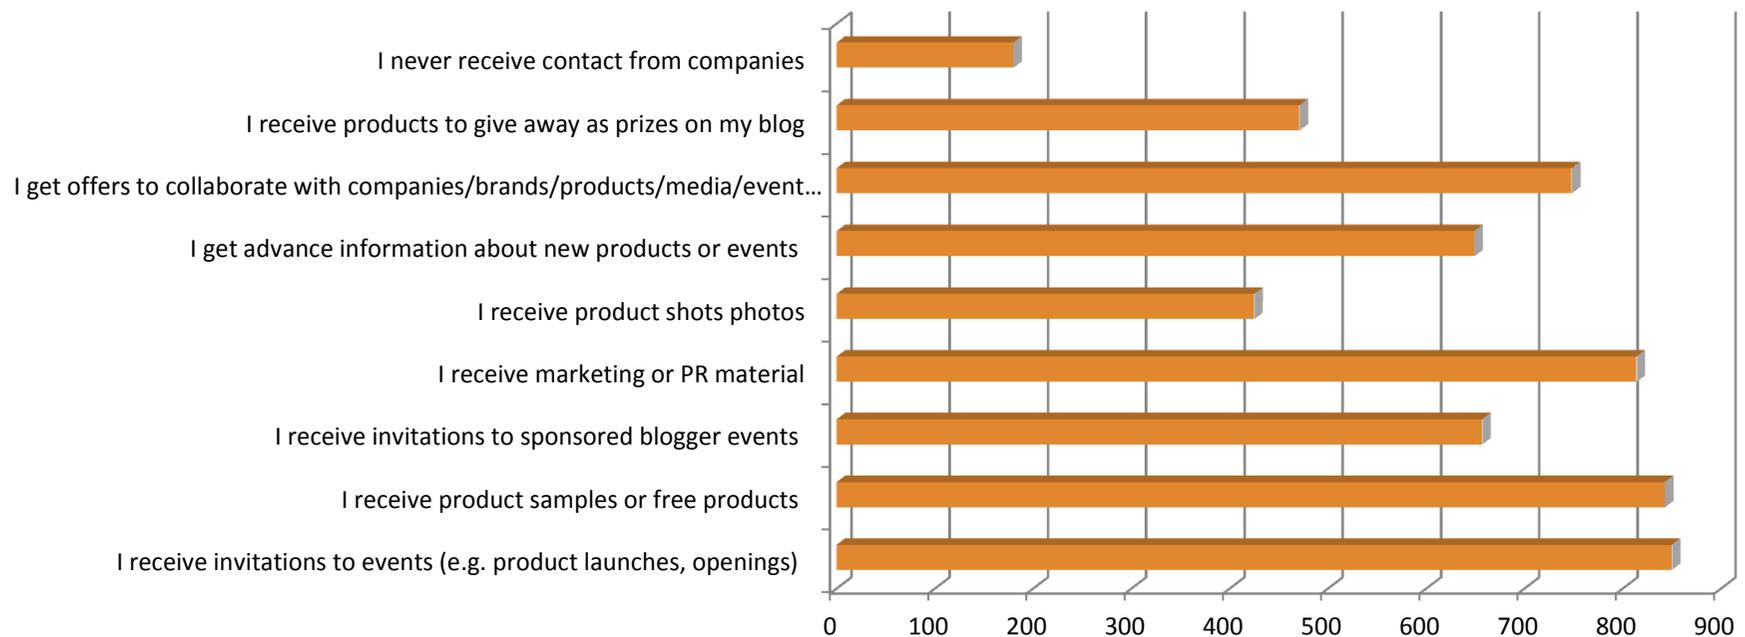

27% were contacted weekly and 19% daily

Major regional difference: in “advanced technology” countries, a much higher proportion of bloggers is targeted by companies.

How do companies communicate with bloggers?

Invitations to events, marketing or PR material and product samples or free products are widest spread. Astonishingly, only 20% of bloggers received photos or other images from companies.

How do bloggers react to these approaches by companies?

More than half of them (52%) view things positively and actually wish for more. Only 7% are reserved about this contact and only 2% are against

I think it is a good thing and I wish for more contacts	52%
I think it is a good thing and the current amount of contacts is good	17%
I think it is a good thing but there are too many contacts	5%
It is an OK thing	12%
I have reservations about contacts from companies	7%
I don't want companies to contact me	2%
If something else, what?	5%

Monetisation

30% said that they wished to earn money from blogging.

48% reported that they already earn money.

The IPREX Blogbarometer 2015

The participating countries:

- Czech Republic
- Estonia
- Finland
- Germany
- Italy
- Northern Ireland (UK)
- Netherlands
- Republic of Ireland
- Slovenia
- Spain
- China
- Malaysia
- United States of America

The IPREX Blogbarometer 2015

IPREX is an international network of owner-managed communication agencies, where 1,500 specialists work in more than 100 offices worldwide.

A group of European IPREX partners decided to study the impact of blogging on the communication industry and so conducted an informal email survey among bloggers, inviting three non-European countries to participate for comparison.

In total the results that follow were derived from the responses of 1,934 bloggers living in 13 countries.

Contact

ORCA Affairs GmbH
Schumannstraße 5
10117 Berlin
Germany

Frank Heller
phone: +49-30-28876152
e-mail: frank.heller@orca-affairs.de www.orca-affairs.de